There were many callers yesterday at the School Contest Office, and almost every one left some votes to swell the standing of his favorite school. The callers who come to bring coupons always linger to admire the beautiful casts which are to be given by this paper to the schools of Richmond, Manchester and Henrico county, and the visitors yesterday were no exception. over the James River and many more rivers. buggy, and I was soon going over red clay.

I was put in the mall-box; presently a lady came and got me. She opened me by a big log fire.

"I am very warm," she said, "let's go in the other room."

There she took her scissors and neatly cut me out and put me with some other coupons.

On Thanksgiving Day I arrived 3M East Clay Street, Etchmond, Va., at a teacher's house. She gladly took me in, but when she saw I was not on time; you are too late."

I was disappointed very much. If I had wings I would fly down to The Times Building, room No. 8, but as I have no wings I am afraid I will make the teacher lose the collection of statuary. My heart is broken, but I hope some way may yet be found to have me counted.

By MARY GORDON,

On Thankegiving Day we were clipped from The Times Dispatch folded neatly, and carried to the train, to take a long visit in the country.

We climbed mountains, went over streams, through tunnels, and traveled so many different ways we cannot tell you all.

We at last arrived at a heautiful place called "Paradise," on account of its lovely surroundings, but were so thoroughly chilled, thought for a while we would freeze. When the kind lady to whom we were sent unwrapped us by her nice log fire, it made us feel more cheerful.

We were very homesick, and could scarcely keep the tears back. In fact, we did let one roll down our cheeks once in a while.

The lady told us to go out on the porch. She thought it would make us more cheerful, I guess.

Bo we went out there and saw a large pippin tree, and wished we had some of the apples, but they were all picked.

The next day they wrapped us up the schools will be continued on Monday.

Many people are asking when the contest will end. The date of the last coupon and the day decided upon for the announcement of the winning schools will be given in the paper to-morrow, together with the standing of the different buildings up to noon to-day.

All coupons reading "Not good after noon of December 8th," must be in to-day.

Story of Some Coupons.
Sadly, sadly here I am, an unhappy coupon. I unwillingly was taken from my comrades and sent into the cold fitue Ridge to a kind lady's house. Oh, it was so very, very cold that folded in the paper I was so cold that I was nearly frozen. When I got into the house, unfolded by the fire. I felt relieved. I was comfortable, but, oh, so lonesome. As I was put into a drawer, cut out so prettily. I found some of my comrades who had come before me. The lady folded us and put us in an envelope and sent us away.

Richmond.

I arrived at Richmond Joyfully, but I found when delivered, too late to be counted in the great contest. If we had feet or wings we would have walked or flown to Room 8, Times Building, to Miss Brinkhaus.

The teacher of our school is so disappointed about it. The coupons are so disappointed, too. We stand here weeping, as we think we may keep Leigh School from setting one of those beautiful collections. The lesson I learn is never to be late. One hour before, is a better than one minute too late. I am.

Many Secure Work.

Since returning from the Porismouth Conference, Rev. A. B. Sharpe, general superintendent, has found work for 108 men, most of them now being employed in the Locomotive Works, the Cedar Works and the Foundry Works of the city. A few of these men are, of course, professional mendicants; but most of them have been reduced to penury by those misfortunes which all mankind is heir to. It is to these that the helping hand of the mission is extended.

Forty-one men are now boarding at the institute, only, however, until they can secure work and get enough in hand to pay for board and lodging in regular boarding houses.

The institute is at present undergoing repairs and renovation, which will probably be completed within a few days. The old reading-room and dining-counter is being enlarged and merged into a reading-room, and downstairs the rooms are being fitted up as bath-rooms. The dining-room is finished. Upstairs are the bedrooms which, when completed, will be Many Secure Work.

who are now sleeping between their covers.
Mr. Sharpe hopes to have everything in his mission-house completed before Christmas, when the institute will be in full swing as a home of refuse for the houseless wanderers who come yearly to its doors.
